

exploring HEAVENLY PLACES

with Dr. Paul Cox

God has placed a calling on Paul's life and has provided him with an understanding of generational deliverance, discernment, and spiritual warfare. These concepts are explained in the bible but seem to be often overlooked or misunderstood. His desire is to pass on revelation, understanding and these giftings to the body of Christ.

Paul models a process where all participants are encouraged to share their insights and understanding. He models it in such a way that others learn to discern and respond to what God is doing at the moment – a lesson that can be carried into everyday life.

Therefore these meetings are a very interactive experience. He maintains a focus on testing all information against God's word. Another interesting aspect is that every meeting is different because Paul strives to follow God's lead at all times.
