Message delivered by Rainbow Angel

The time has come for all men to be unified by my spirit to worship in unity on my holy mountain to come together as one, the revealed sons gathering to bring my order to the earth closing the gap bringing justice in waves and waves of glory to redeem what was written by the ancient of days.

Healing is at hand. A breakthrough from unity for those who stand on this land. A corporate platform for justice is here. Declare your hope as if now not for a future to be revealed. Nothing is lost that cannot be gained. A restoration for relationships the prodigals reclaimed not one being lost for all that's being written now. It is in the book of remembrance. Declare the promises for breakthrough is yours.

Chronos is slowing down time and releasing ungodly power through fallen thrones to cause decay with the elemental spirits which will eventually result in a premature death and/or a slowdown of bodily functions including brain functions. This is all to prevent people from reaching the potential of their birthright.

Prophetic Word

You've entered into a time you've entered into a place which is in space of what God's pre-created for such a time as this I've created you to run in this space of time that was created for such a time as this, so as you enter into the space in the place which once again was created for such a time as this, OK, I'm going to move all the things that have been in that place out of the place and to where they now we're set to be at the foundation, so I'm building now on the foundation, in the space, in the place, and in that time of space that's going to take you out further than you've ever gone before with revelation of that place in space. So as you enter into that race that I've equipped you in, you shall walk in the places that I set in space that are going to be completed in this space of time.

I'd tell you the truth. I've come into this place at this time to give you things, godly things, OK things to help you overcome things, to help you advance your victors. You have more spiritual authority than you think. I have called you to godly height. Let's come on up. Have I not told you there are things to come? Secret things. Wisdom of God. Listen in, and you were here. Come on up. Ah, stepping into my waters can come forward. I'm not rushing waters. Wait, longitude and latitude for texts.

Whales say goals. Come forward. Open your eyes for texts. No, no. The word patience is a virtue. No, I feel like don't, don't, don't use your logic to interpreting. Just listen to whatever. Whatever's there, whatever I say, whatever hits, I don't mind. No, but yeah, that part, right? came forward higher I'm just getting from the realm of the spirit of how um, the joy, the Lord is truly our strength.

And so it came down, went up, came down, and went out. It was like on a roller coaster from what I could see. Um, and what I'm interpreting is that the joy, the Lord is our strength, that God brought strength into this place to lift this out of the heaviness of where are we being individually that carried something corporately that now has been released in its firing, going into the north, south, east and west, and settling in to the place of where we're at. So what God brought you in here to do has been accomplished. OK.
