

August 17, 2019

Academy Saturday

Jana

It's time to learn from the glory, wisdom and power. It must have their story. Your roots are planted by streams which are connected to the river of life and the trees. Trees above and trees below if the roots are holy the whole tree is holy and the glory can be known. You have learned from the modality of man's intellectual proof but wisdom is here to release the truth. Wisdom and knowledge make the way. Experience is the best teacher for the Lord's plans are to save. The trees on either side are both the old and the new. The anointing will teach you to walk on through. You all carry the eyes of the Lord that go to-and-fro connecting one to another and to stay in the glory of the Lord. But the interception has blocked the way. A cosmic influence distorts what God is made. The original design is in the heart and that is the matter to release the anointing that breaks the yoke so the connections are shattered.

Jana

Knowledge should be the fruit of wisdom because they work in harmony for life's decisions. The path of life that goes brighter day-by-day are the choices from wisdom that were made and named. Wisdom is the experience of life itself. Knowledge is the information that guides us to Kingdom wealth. The tree of knowledge and good and evil is when there is no harmony between knowledge and wisdom. The fruit of righteousness is from the tree of life not just intellectual knowledge but wisdom re-creates by the will of God.

Sow a seed in knowledge alone you will leave the reality for life you will be known. Wisdom is discernment for life. The paths most tread will guide you to what is wrong or right.

Jana scroll

You all together in this plan. Unity is at your hand. Submitting one to another will release the decree on earth as it is in heaven for kingdom worth. From the view of limitless provision on how it should be. All has been given to you as you freely receive. Now together you are a well-watered garden producing fruit. Heal the man, heal the land for the anointing of truth.

I am coming quickly. That is the perception you should have. Changing from old teaching and the paradigms of man. The kingdom is a movement and it never stops. You may know this now but you don't stay here. Don't let fear count the cost. Unity is your safety and wisdom will always be found for the path of righteousness is always peace so truth will abound. Now from the spirit the spirit is known to always recreated the Kingdom above. Multiple these things that are lovely and pure. Don't be stuck on the problem. Just from a heart that is pure.

The winds of change are upon you and I will cast new seeds so your branches that are strong will continue and give forth its leaves and a nation that knows you not will come to your foliage for the power of your God is within your members for the rest of the story.

Archangel

The night is almost gone and the day is near so you walk in the light as he is in the light and have no fear but the blood cleanses you from all sin if your path grows brighter and brighter for you will truly win. Is not a lamp to be put on a lampstand? Not hidden by the fear of man. For the seed was sown in good intention. The blind and unseeing heart is the hinderance. Don't hold onto what you used to know for revelation is changing if you are in the glory of the Lord. If you have ears to hear take care of what you listen to for who has it is about the measure of truth not wavering back and forth for if the soil is good ground the harvest will be abundant by your choice. Is this not a picture of the kingdom of God? If it is as small as a mustard seed doesn't it grow beyond and beyond. It is time to feed on the truth of life for roots may connect and the trees release their leaves. The only thing that holds you back is the intellectual decision from the judgments of the past. But looking forward for the harvest of the tree is the true leadership of the body and the fruit that it leaves. It is time to change to the new creation that was made. This is the righteousness of the tree of life. It is how it should be with no sickness in your midst and no strife that divides. This connects from the bitter roots. Repent and renounce and look for the new. For the contamination is just a limited view. It is time to grow bolder and take the limits off your view. This connection of idolatrous works that set the star wormwood that contaminates the truth. Your protection is to hide in the light so what is hidden is reveal and brought to light.

Scroll

Elohim is your Father is your son is your holy spirit and when you surrender to me you are not only surrendering yourself but you are surrendering those before you. You have that right to lift up to Me. The last thought of Elohim is order, the separation of the waters on the earth. I want to bring order to the families, order to finances. I want to bring order to your house. I want to bring order to cities. I want to bring order in everything. I am a God of order. So will you let me Elohim. I know your heart wants this. Some feel tired because they have been surrendering. But there is more. Don't give up. The layers have gone deep. You are fighting for more than just your own so you will bear the witness to the nations and the families bringing Me, bringing my order to them.