

Friends,

Something happened to me on Saturday at the conclusion of the Apostolic Summit. I realized when I returned from the conference that I was still in the Burning Bush. Today, Monday, I am still in the Burning Bush. I looked at previous words and realized that we are actually in I AM! Note the word from Jana Green below.

Blessings!

Jana Green

When you encounter I Am you will encounter eternal peace and lasting power. I Am is the origin. I Am is the center of who God is and where creation began-it is the center of His throne. Everything we need is in I Am. We don't need anything in I Am. It is the eternal gate, the sum of all things, the reality of everything, the place of original design. You must enter in to be aligned and refined to your original design.

El Shaddai is in the center of I Am. Mount Zion is there too.
